

LEVEL SIX

1. Immediately the information about the criminal was received, the police broadcast a message to the public.
2. The driver was lucky to be alive, and after the excitement of the crash, he began to explain that a donkey had caused him to run off the road.
3. After bathing, the artist who lived in a comfortable caravan, drank cocoa or coffee with the governor.
4. The engineer had to fasten an extra float to the moorings.
5. The ship was forced to leave the harbour during the fierce storm.
6. I was disappointed that the butterfly changed direction and flew away.
7. The carpenter built a cottage for the author and his nephew.
8. After returning from the orchard he took his overalls off and walked towards the tennis court.
9. After the atomic bomb burst a man was found to be blind.
10. In our community the school committee will get cement for the concrete basketball court.
11. On the ancient chart was an agreement made over two centuries ago.
12. The average fisherman has much bother keeping the bait on his hook.
13. The pirates, seeking adventure, captured the terrified enemy.
14. For supper they had soup, toast, roast tomatoes, and stuffed rooster.

15. The lawyer hurt his knee as he ran rapidly from the palace.
16. As well as her daily groceries, my mother bought chocolate, medicine and a magazine.
17. The anxious ewe had to search the area for her weak lamb.
18. Native timber grew in the plantation in the neighbourhood of the kindergarten.
19. Liquid fuel is used to produce energy for many space missiles.
20. The hunter noticed a herd of deer hiding in a hollow under the cliff.
21. The sailor was shown the proper way to send a signal to other navy ships.
22. The raw beef was placed in an oven when the temperature had reached its peak.
23. The rugby player rushed forward to score a popular try.
24. The pilot and his crew had to judge how much further the tank of petrol would take them.
25. The ant colony would appear whenever waste food was thrown away.
26. The maid's costume had a collar which was trimmed with cherry ribbon.
27. My scarf was torn by a member of the other soccer team.
28. The manager had to remind his clerk to buy more stationery.
29. The scientist had to prepare a poison to prevent birds from attacking a crop of peas.
30. The engineer and his gang, with the aid of machinery, made a solid dam.

31. Men in prison have regular exercise and marching drill.
32. His niece was keen to practise her roller skating on the level surface.
33. The ugly donkey had a stable in which a saddle hung beside an old carriage.
34. When the atom bomb exploded, the ashes fell on the deck of a ship.
35. Some feared that the fever in the nearby district would spread everywhere in the future.
36. As he swam for shelter the taste of salt water made his throat sore.
37. In the avenue is a coconut tree which children decorate with curly ribbon and purple plastic balls.
38. The smooth, slippery eel was happy as it ate an extra goldfish.
39. If you are not honest or do not obey the law, you may lose your liberty.
40. The child smiled happily as he skated on a length of smooth slippery ice.
41. For lunch the guide ate a salmon sandwich, but the other climbers, who appeared almost out of breath, ate a tomato and some oatmeal cakes.
42. The doctor will have to treat his toe, as the pain is terrific.
43. If you serve a double fault in tennis, you fail to gain points and may lose the game.
44. The natives had a successful harvest of coconuts and were able to supply their friends on the surrounding islands.
45. The polite dog sat up on the beach to beg for various foods.
46. He put the shovel and hoe over his shoulder, took the rake in his left hand, and set off, as he meant to weed the garden near the windmill.

47. The model, with its powerful motor, reached a record height.
48. Not a single settler remained in the settlement after the treaty had been signed.
49. At midnight the lonely house was haunted by a witch who frightened human visitors for mischief.
50. I was in favour of the process which used tar instead of paste to patch the crack.
51. Though Tom received an invitation to the wedding, we went by ourselves, as his sickness was measles.
52. The ruler gave an account to Cabinet of minerals found in his land.
53. She smiled with happiness to receive the furniture, the vase and the tame geese.
54. The unknown visitor refused protection from the lightning and the showers.
55. Afterwards the tramp had swum to the sandy section of the beach.
56. They agreed to trade the timber on the property to help the growth of the new industry.
57. This term we use chalk to print the phrase from the journal.
58. The guard will pardon the deaf slave and offer to transport him to town.
59. His only weapons against the wolves were an axe and a sword, which he handles perfectly.
60. The simple fool had a good motive when he stole the barrel of wine.